

Have art, will travel

STRATFORD War Memorial Centre played host to a very special travelling visitor on Sunday and Monday – the Real Art Roadshow.

The roadshow exhibition was housed in one huge black truck that literally unfolded to form a 78 square metre mobile art gallery.

The public were warmly welcomed and around 75 people paid a call to the roadshow on Sunday, with a further 90 or so on Monday.

The roadshow displayed over 60 pieces of original art by a cross-section of well-known and emerging New Zealand artists, including Tony de Launton, Dick Frizzell, Simon Ogden, Gretchen Albrecht, Don Driver, Ralph Hotere, Robin Kahukiwa and Gordon Walters.
